I do have a few thoughts about the message points:

We should qualify our support for a resolution between the two groups slightly (question 2) " while we hope that the two sides can resolve their differences there comes a point in time when sponsor's must begin to firmly plan their activities against a fixed schedule of races. In our view we are at that point"

I think we need to rework the disney stuff to clearly separate the Tobacco issue from the dispute. If Tobacco is percieved as a barrier to compromise we could alienate our supporters in the sport. (Under the used only as asked portion)
I would lose the " In addition the IRL has selected.." I'd suggest something like:

" We feel that it would be inappropriate for Marlboro cars to race at Disney under any circumstances and wouldn't do so. However, if a resolution endorsed by Indy Car included a Disney Race we would be supportive of that decision. We simply would not participate in that particular race"
